

For each of the problems below, you should hand in your code and a hardcopy of your plots.

- 1) (4 pts) Use Python to generate a surface plot and a contour plot for some function $z = f(x, y)$ of your choosing. Products of sines and cosines often give interesting results.